From now on, Statistics&Applications is indexed in Scopus. This is an important result for our journal and I want to thank all the people who made it possible to reach this goal, that is, Authors, Referees, Scientific Committee, Editorial Committee, Executive Committee, Editorial Staff and Publisher. Moreover, each article will be identified by a DOI code.

My wish is that this is a first step towards other new challenging goals.

Moreover, I would like to thank all the persons who revised with great passion and accuracy the papers submitted to Statistics&Applications in the last four years (2014-2017); they greatly contributed to improve the quality of this journal.

Therefore, I wish to thank: Krassimir Atanassov, Luca Bagnato, Roberto Baragona, Dibyojyoti Bhattacharjee, Silvia Biffignandi, Giuseppe Boari, Claudio Borroni, Maurizio Brizzi, Raffaella Calabrese, Ida Camminatiello, M.
